

10,000-mAh power bank compatible with MagSafe

SKU: TEBB10000MAGSLIM

The battery pack features wireless charging and a USB-C Power Delivery port

Wireless and MagSafe compatible: perfect for iPhone and Android

The 10,000-mAh power bank allows you to charge your phone when you're walking down the street, at work or in the car and you don't have a power source to hand. The flat surface allows you to charge a wire-less-enabled Android smartphone. Place your device on top of it and 15W charging starts automatically. With its built-in magnet, it's perfect for iPhones with MagSafe charging: as you move your Apple phone closer to the base, it will magnetically attach to the phone's body.

Automatic Detection System (ADS) technology: secure wireless charging

The 10,000-mAh battery pack provides fast and secure wireless charging. Transmits power taking into account the maximum needs of the phone being charged. This is particularly useful for iPhones, which often require less power, to keep them safe from short circuits and overheating.

USB-C port charges ultra-fast and reliably

The built-in Type C port has a dual purpose: you can use it to charge the power bank using the cable supplied or to power an additional device using a cable with a USB-C connector. This port charges at 20 watts, and thanks to the Power Delivery (PD) technology, it does so in a fully reliable way. This means you can power your personal MagSafe iPhone with wireless charging and, at the same time, the tablet you use for work.

Robust and compact

Its compact size means it can easily fit in a backpack or bag. It is also made from high-quality aluminium which also makes it very durable.
