

Samba wireless stereo headphones

SKU: TEJZHEADPHSAMBABTK

V4.2 wireless stereo headphones with multifunction buttons, integrated microphone, AUX and Micro USB inputs, foldable

THE RIGHT RHYTHM

The Samba stereo headphones represent the ideal compromise between technological virtuosity and eclectic usability. They can be used in wireless mode or with a jack cable depending on your need, as well as for answering calls or get excited with Carioca rhythms.

The refined metal finish and the surprising audio performance will make them essential accessories for enjoying moments of pure fun.

TWO SOULS: WIRELESS AND CABLE USE

Just as North American jazz embraced the Brazilian bossa nova, the Samba headphones also have a dual soul. To be used in wireless mode, you need to turn them on using the ON/OFF button, access the Bluetooth settings of the smartphone and carry out the pairing process.

The 250 mAh battery guarantees autonomy during calls and when listening to music that goes from 9 to 10 hours depending on the volume level. When the headphones run out of power, they can still be used by inserting a jack cable inside the AUX input and connecting them to a smartphone or tablet.

A SYMPHONY OF FUNCTIONS

The Samba headphones are foldable so they can be stored very easily. On the left ear piece we find the multifunction keys for managing music, calls and volume, as well as the ON/OFF button. The Intelligent Power Saving system automatically recognises the absence of the input signal and the headphones automatically turn off: this means that the battery will be preserved.

Included in the package is a power cable: the Micro USB connector must be inserted into the dedicated Samba input and the USB end into a power source.
