At 1 metre long, this cable offers the ideal balance between flexibility and convenience. It is long enough to let you use your devices while charging or transferring data, but not so long that it is cumbersome or difficult to manage. The perfect accessory for the office and at home. The cable's anti-tangle finish allows you to store it wherever and however you want without it tying itself in knots: just pack it away and take it on your travels.
